

turimbi strip reader – the easy Cloud solution

Customized test strip reading

- Any test strip or gradation
- Any camera or smartphone
- Any ambient light

Welcome to reliable strip reading

For decades, professional users as well as analytical laymen appreciate test strip analysis for their simplicity and reliability. Some already use classic strip readers to improve accuracy and meet the needs for documentation.

Cloud based strip reading is the next step and offers unseen opportunities to improve both, flexibility and reliability of strip testing. Just open <https://turimbi.com> and start professional strip reading.

Use any camera or smartphone with simple background

- Existing smartphones – no initial hardware costs
- Dedicated instruments or industrial imaging system – professional approach
- Background as pdf to print yourself – easily accessible and cost effective

Read any test strip

- Single and multi-parameter test strips
- Special strips with hole
- Test strips with uneven or spotty color

Report any value format

- Go/no go decisions simplify use and increase safety
- Values according to local limits allow easy reporting
- Values according to color chart ensure optimal comparability to visual reading

Connect to any data management

- You want to connect to existing workflow? Use the simple API and easily get started
- You do not have a data management, yet? Then look at turimbi scientific data exchange the Cloud solution to easily use and share data
- Or simply implement the strip reader into your website for optimal customer experience – it will look as if it was your reader

